

MARCO BODELLINI

DISCUSSION B – DISRUPTIONS OF THE ENVIRONMENT

TOPIC B1: Climate change - challenges for banks, DGSs/ ICSs (and authorities?)

Marco Bodellini is a Research Scientist in Sustainable Finance at the House for Sustainable Governance and Markets - University of Luxembourg and a Visiting Professor at Fordham University in New York. He has published a number of books and articles in US, UK, and European peer-reviewed journals concerning bank restructuring and resolution, corporate governance of financial institutions, investment funds regulation, central banking, sustainable finance and fintech. His main areas of research include bank crisis management and resolution, central banking, corporate governance of financial institutions, systemic risk and financial stability, shadow banking and investment funds, fintech and sustainable finance. He is a qualified lawyer admitted to the Italian Bar and provides legal consultancy to public and private institutions. He is also a member of the expert group advising the European Parliament on bank crisis management matters, a member of the Advisory Panel of the International Association of Deposit Insurers (IADI) and a Special Advisor to the Unidroit Secretariat on bank insolvency.